A SUPERLATIVE PARTNERSHIP

AjMadison's exceptional inventory, product know-how and service allow Coco Kanakis to achieve the ideal designs that elevate her clients' lives.

How long have you worked with AjMadison and what's been your overall experience? I began collaborating with AjMadison when I was working in kitchen and bath showrooms in New York City, well before I started my own business. All of the AjMadison consultants I've worked with over the years have been highly knowledgeable and extremely professional. Whenever they've encountered something outside of their immediate expertise, they've consistently taken the time to do the research and reply with thorough and informed responses.

Talk about your current AjMadison representative. My current AjMadison rep is Zak Ali, who's always full of fresh ideas, eager to help and provides us with the best pricing and service possible.

Did AjMadison help you navigate any particular design challenges? To overcome an unmovable structural column, we created a bookended cocktail/smoothie bar near the entry to the family room with a new freezer column and an undercounter beverage refrigerator. With AjMadison's help, we were able to elevate the whole design concept and create a bar area that became an unexpected highlight for my clients.

Share a design or engineering feature that is enhancing your clients' kitchen experience. The Monogram wall oven's French door opening allows easy one-handed operation. Our clients immediately loved this clever and convenient design.

Ethereal Elegance Abounds

MIXING STRONG LINES WITH CRISP DETAILS AND A MOODY ORGANIC COLOR STORY PRODUCED AN EXCEPTIONALLY EYE-CATCHING, INNOVATIVE AND ENDURING FAMILY KITCHEN.

Curating designs that blend a home's unique architectural language with the homeowner's personality and lifestyle is an artform. And when it comes to the kitchen—undoubtedly one of the most important spaces in any home—this is particularly true. Since founding her namesake design firm in 2008, Coco Kanakis has built an outstanding reputation for award-winning designs that reflect her clients' wants and needs and are as bold, refined, innovative and playful as herself.

A REMARKABLE REMODEL
The kitchen in this Bedford, New York, home had weathered two decades of family life when Coco Kanakis' clients—a couple with three small children—approached her. "It was well overdue for a transformation," she says. What did Kanakis deliver? "A delightful cooking zone, better through-way circulation, increased refrigeration space, upgraded storage access, a homework area and a drinks fridge, all with an inviting modern feeling complemented by a big dash of drama."

AWE-INSPIRING APPLIANCES
Sourcing the ideal appliances meant a visit to AjMadison where Zak Ali, Kanakis' representative, helped her find just what her clients needed. "We predominantly chose Monogram appliances because they strike the perfect balance between quality, durability, professional-level performance and competitive pricing," Kanakis shares. "We also went with a Liebherr undercounter beverage fridge drawer that accommodates everything from full-height bottles to snacks for the kids."

A Collective Cheer!

When asked what the AjMadison's Kitchen Design Collective means to her and her firm, Coco Kanakis says, "Being a part of the AjMadison's Kitchen Design Collective is an exciting opportunity for us to showcase this project, while shining a light on our work and our brand. We look forward to connecting with and learning from other talented, like-minded designers, and we hope this unique program will open the door to many future collaborations."
